

United Network Associates Technical Director Receives Twenty Top Techies Award from LISTnet

David Bricca honored for achievements in creating and delivering information technology solutions

Plainview NY -- United Network Associates Inc has announced that David Bricca, its Director of Technical Services, has received the Twenty Top Techies award from the Long Island Software and Technology Network (LISTnet). The award was presented to him on December 9, 2008 at a LISTnet ceremony at the Garden City Hotel in recognition of his achievements in creating and delivering information technology solutions.

"The Twenty Top Techies award honors the unsung heroes who work behind the scenes to develop information technology solutions," said David Bricca. "I'm very proud to have received this prestigious award from an important organization like LISTnet."

"We are very pleased that Dave has received the industry recognition that he so richly deserves," said Ed Eisenstein, President of United Network Associates. "Our customers always tell us that he understands their business and their technology very well and that he provides an immediate response to their problems. They appreciate that he serves as an active beta tester of Microsoft Windows and Exchange technology to keep up with the latest developments in the industry."

United Network Associates

Founded in 1995, United Network Associates Inc is a professional computer service and support company serving Long Island and New York City businesses. Its dedicated technical specialists install, configure, maintain and support Microsoft computer networks and solve any technical problem dealing with servers, routers and Internet connectivity. United Network Associates helps its customers use technology tools to be more productive and to grow. Its services range from keeping computer systems functioning at peak performance to planning technology roadmaps for the future. For additional information see www.unatechnical.com

Long Island Software and Technology Network (LISTnet)

LISTnet is an association that promotes Long Island as one of the national centers of excellence for software and technology solutions. It facilitates collaborations between companies; establishes forums and events for the exchange of information; improves the quantity and quality of the labor force; and partners with companies that provide the high technology centers necessary for the growth of the Long Island software and technology industry. Its goal is to increase business for every LISTnet partner.

#

December 2008

United Network Associates
500 Bi-County Blvd
Suite 106
Farmingdale, NY 11735